Our Merchants!

The growth and development of any community depend to a large extent upon the character and progressiveness of its merchants.

A city chooses its merchants, for only those whom the people patronize can afford to remain in business. The man who does not "play fair" will, sooner or later, be found out and forced to quit. The honest merchant who knows his business and sticks to it is bound to succeed.

This community is fortunate in having its mercantile business in the hands of high class men. No finer body of business men can be found anywhere in the world than those with whom our people have the privilege of dealing daily.

THE BEGINNING OF A BANK-NOTE

Little Marcia's baby dress though made of the finest linen was ultimately worn threadbare. One day it landed in the rag bag and was sold to the junk dealer. When the rag sorter touched the discarded garment he detected in a flash the fine quality of the flax and set it aside for a journey to the Bureau of Engraving and Printing at Washington. Eventually it became legal tender—a bank-note. Just how is told in one of the beautiful booklets about Our Government which we are sending each month to those interested.

Just send us your name and address and you will receive a copy of every issue of the series without charge.

At the Methodist church Friday evening an enjoyable affair took place, when the question "Old Bachelors Should be Taxed to support Old Maids" was up It was decided that old bachelors should not be disturbed in their already horrible estate and that old maids had no claim upon them. The subject was ably handled by both sides.

The big reputation of Tanlac has been made by doing what other medicines failed to do Chas. F James

The old maids of the town say they are not satisfied and want another chance at old bachelors.

Wake! Awake! the Spring comes in
With music on the hills
And fairy alchemists begins
To coin their daffodils

Lo! we are done with autumn brown
Old winter we'll forget
I think a bit of sky fell down to make that violet
Here's merry April dancing in
I glimpsed a yellow wing
Oh heart, there is no greater sin
Than to be dumb in Spring.

Circuit Court

Judge Hundley opened his Spring term of the court here Saturday and practically disposed of the crimnal docket

The negroes charged with breaking into the store of R D. Baldwin at Pamplin were all given verdicts ranging from 10 years in the penitentiary to 6 months in jail. The Turner negro charged with breaking into the store of a darkey at Spout Spring, on his plea of guilty was given 10 years in the penitentiary.

Probably the most interesting case which has been heard in our court for years was the damage suit of Mrs Spencer, a musician of the city of Lynchburg vs the N & W Ry, for personal injury received while boarding a train here Feb 1919 The plaintiff was represented by a lady who made her maiden speech at the bar in this State, Miss Carrie Gregory, of Lynchburg Her remarks to the jury were pertinent and the case was fairly and carefully presented She was assisted in the suit by Jack Lee, one of the ablest advocates in the State The defendant company was represented by Gravitt, of Blackstone, and Hon. S L Ferguson, who fought the case for the company in a very able manner. The jury rendered a verdict for the plaintiff of $600 in a short while after they got hold of the papers in the case The courthouse was crowded for two days and the ladies were especially interested in the case. The State's best surgeons and nerve specialists were here

Khaki.

To India, by way of England, we owe the word "khaki." There was a sect of Brahmins—and it is still in existence—who applied the ashes of cow-dung to their clothes and persons. They were called "khako" because of that coloration—or discoloration. The word was naturally applied to the earthy or clay color in the uniforms of soldiers or sepoys by the British government. Hence the protective light-chocolate dye employed in British military uniforms.

VIRGINIA'S GREATEST EVENT IS FORTHCOMING PAGEANT

HISTORY OF "MOTHER OF STATES" FROM LANDING OF CAPTAIN JOHN SMITH AT JAMESTOWN TO BE DEPICTING IN PAGEANT MAY 22-28, 1922

The greatest spectacular event in the history of Virginia is scheduled for the entire week of May 22, when the Virginia Historical Pageant will be presented on a stage before an open air amphitheatre, which will seat 30,000 people, and which is being enacted near Bryan Park, one of Richmond's most beautiful suburbs.

The Virginia Historical Pageant will depict all important events in the history of Virginia, from the day Captain John Smith and his pioneers landed at Jamestown in 1607, on down through the Colonial days, the Revolution and War of 1812, the War Between the States and the part Virginians took in the Spanish-American and the World Wars.

The story of the drama for the pageant will be a composite story in which hundreds of Virginians have had a part in the writing. To gather the data and details for the pageant story the musty records in the old courthouses of the State have been reviewed and from the printed pages that have turned brown with age, men and women of Virginia who love to delve into history of the past, have gathered accurate information which will make the Virginia Historical Peageant true to records and bring to light many traditions of the early settlers, which traditions for hundreds of years have been stored away in the archives of the courthouses of the Commonwealth.

Thomas Wood Stevens, head of the Department of Drama, Carnegie Institute of Technology, has been engaged to dramatize the episodes in Virginia's history, which will include the characters of the great men of America—Captain John Smith and the pioneers of the First Settlement; Patrick Henry, Washington, Jefferson, and the leaders of the Revolution; Lee and the great figures of the Confederacy; and a host of others.

Mr. Stevens has directed more than thirty successful pageants, the most recent of which was the National Red Cross Pageant, New York, 1917, the Pageant of Victory and Peace, Pittsburgh, 1919, and the Missouri One Hundred Years Ago, Missouri Centennial, 1921.

Virginia delegates to the national T. P. A. and the U. C. T. conventions have carried the slogan of the Virginia Historical Pageant, "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," and thus advertised the pageant to the membership of those two great national organizations.

The "Pageant of Virginia" will not be a procession, or a masque, but a play of many episodes, presented on a large outdoor stage, by a cast of Virginians.

Through Pageant Week there will be a parade each day, the floats in each parade representing some period of Virginia's history, and the final parade on Saturday, May 27, will be historical and commercial.

THOMAS WOOD STEVENS

The tentative program for Pageant Week, May 22-28, follows:

Monday, May 22—Coronation Parade and Home-coming. First night performance of the "Pageant of Virginia."

Tuesday, May 23—Colonial parade, floats of the period entered from counties and cities of the State. Night performance followed by the "Colonial Ball" in honor of the "Queen of the Pageant."

Wednesday, May 24—Revolution and War of 1812; floats of the period. Night showing the pageant followed by the "Revolutionary Ball."

Thursday, May 25 — Confederate Day; floats of the period and floral parade. Night showing of the peagent followed by the "Confederate Ball."

Friday, May 26—Spanish-American and World War Day; floats, military, etc. Night showing of the pageant followed by "Tournament Ball."

Saturday, May 27—Greater Virginia Day—historical and commercial floats. Night showing of the "Pageant of Virginia."

During Pageant Week the Virginia Boat Club will feature a regatta.

Reservations for rooms are being made now by people from all sections of the country.

Colds & Headache

"For years we have used Black-Draught in our family, and I have never found any medicine that could take its place," writes Mr. H. A. Stacy, of Bradyville, Tenn. Mr. Stacy, who is a Rutherford County farmer, recommends Black-Draught as a medicine that should be kept in every household for use in the prompt treatment of many little ills to prevent them from developing into serious troubles.

THEDFORD'S BLACK-DRAUGHT

"It touches the liver and does the work," Mr. Stacy declared. "It is one of the best medicines I ever saw for a cold and headache. I don't know what we would do in our family if it wasn't for Black-Draught. It has saved us many dollars . . . I don't see how any family can hardly go without it. I know it is a reliable and splendid medicine to keep in the house. I recommend Black-Draught highly and am never without it."
